ANARCHY IN THE CAPITAL

Situation in Peking as Reported by American Officers.

TROOPS WILL BE DETAINED

Winter's Stay Will Be Necessary Substance of American Reply to Li Hung Chang's Proposal.

Washington Aug [illegible]—The state department [illegible] of the receipt at an early hour this (Wednesday) morning through the consulate in Chifu of a telegram from Minister Conger in the department cipher to the following effect

Peking August 19

Secretary of State Washington

The entire city with the exception of the imperial palace is occupied by Japanese Russian British American and French It is being apportioned into districts for police supervision The Chinese army fled The imperial family and the court have gone westward probably to Si an fu in the province of Shang hsi No representatives of the Chinese government are in sight in Peking and the conditions are chaotic The palace is expected to be taken immediately Many missionaries have started for home while others remain in charge of the Christian refugees numbering about 1 000 Conger

Washington Aug 22—After a long conference at the White House today [illegible] of Li Hung Chang [illegible] sent to the Chinese minister Mr Wu to be forwarded to Li Hung Chang The state department made a definite announcement that the reply had been conveyed to Minister Wu but added to its official utterance that the correspondence would not be made public until tomorrow morning A copy of the reply was sent to the other government represented in China

Firm, but Brief

The American reply is briefly characterized by its firm tone and its brevity Its keynote is the President's attitude as laid down in the American note of July 3 and the reply is strictly direct in answer to the points outlined at that time While the document is [illegible] for immediate negotiations yet it is stated by those who have read the answer with care that it may have had a part in its preparation that rejection is probably to be strong a term to apply to it The United States will in itself in the position of being, so far as the [illegible] affairs in the east is concerned, the only one who are the responsible rulers and with constituted government in actual time of government It is understood that the U[illegible] has not invited further negotiations pending the outcome of the present situation

[illegible] Minister Wu received the reply early this afternoon and work was immediately begun on its translation first from the American to the Chinese and then from the Chinese to cipher This took some time and it was not until late in the day that the reply was actually dispatched

Conger's Dispatch

The most important development of the day as to the actual conditions in Peking came later in the afternoon when the state department received a dispatch from Minister Conger dated at Peking only three days ago

Mr Conger's message was particularly welcomed as it gave the officials in showing how completely the entire city is dominated by the allies He states that it is occupied throughout and that it is being divided for police supervision This last message shows the thoroughness with which the civilized powers are applying civilization to the Chinese capital

Mr Conger's statement that the conditions are chaotic was taken as another strong justification for the firm reply given to China to day He emphasizes the fact that the Chinese army has fled the imperial family and court have gone and no representative of the Chinese government is to be seen in Peking Minister Conger makes no mention of his wish to come home and it is stated officially that this government has made no suggestion that he return to this country

The Military Situation

[illegible] much interest in today's developments as to the diplomatic Admiral Remey's story of the Peking operations up to the 16th in Peking and confirming the press reports already published of the death of the gallant Capt Reilly on the final assault on the outer walls of Peking

Almost as important as the Peking news in this dispatch was the statement that the Boxers are again in evidence near Tientsin Last Sunday morning the Sixth cavalry, with about 600 Japanese and English troops had a lively brush with the Boxers eight miles out on the Tientsin road whence about 100 Chinese were killed and five Americans wounded It was evident from Admiral Remey's account of this affair that while the Chinese are in force on the road they make considerable show they are evidently not in the humor to hotly contest an engagement The casualty list in this fight seems to indicate a sudden and total rout

JAPANESE REPORTS OF THE CHINESE MOVEMENTS

Washington Aug 22—The Japanese legation here received a telegram late [illegible] ug 21 from the foreign office at Tokio giving the following dispatch received yesterday from the Japanese acting consul general at Shang hai

A dispatch received in Tokio from a Chinese official at Pao ting fu says that the empress dowager orders Hsu [illegible] sent to the Chinese minister Mr Wu to be forwarded to Li Hung Chang The state department made a definite announcement that the reply had been conveyed to Minister Wu but added to its official utterance that the correspondence would not be made public until tomorrow morning A copy of the reply was sent to the other government represented in China

MURDEROUS AKRON MOB

Unsuccessful Attempt to Lynch a Negro Followed by Rioting.

MURDER AND INCENDIARISM

Two Persons Are Known to Have Been Killed and Many Others Were Dangerously Hurt.

Akron, Ohio Aug 22—Two persons are known to have been killed several others maimed and for hours tonight the streets of Akron were filled with a wild uncontrollable mob

The trouble was the outcome of an unsuccessful attempt to lynch a negro who is charged with brutal assault The mob formed with the intention of lynching Louis Peck a negro who was arrested today charged with having attempted to assault Christina the six year old daughter of Mr and Mrs Theodor Mass industrious and respectable people who live on Perkins Hill

In police court the prisoner pleaded guilty and was bound over to the common pleas court in $ 000 bail

A large crowd gathered about the city prison tonight at 8 30 o clock and forced in the doors The prison was soon packed with the mob and the officers offered no resistance as Peck, earlier in the evening had been quietly taken away to [illegible]

To satisfy the mob the officers suggested that a committee be appointed to search all the cells and go through [illegible] Tuscarawas and the negro was not found A yell was made Now for the county jail Give us the nigger and we will deal with him

A mad rush followed for the jail and soon the jail was in the hands of the mob

Searched Every Cell

After going through the private apartments of the jail the crowd started to batter down the big iron doors

Deputy Sheriff Stone stood in front of the jail door and made a speech He informed the crowd that Peck could not be found there and he told the people in the mob to select a committee and he would allow the committee to search the jail from top to bottom A committee was quickly selected and [illegible] being satisfied that the negro was not in the mob then rushed across the street and forced open the doors of the county court house The old court house was soon packed and all rooms searched except the rooms in the treasurer department A start was made to tear off the iron doors of the treasurer department but the mob decided not to tackle the job and then the thousands of men and boys again rushed back to the city prison crying for the blood of Peck

The city prison was again surrounded and hundreds of people forced their way into the prison for the second time insisting that Peck was there Mayor Young at this time appeared at one of the windows in the upper part of the building He addressed the mob and he could say that Peck had taken out of prison at four o clock by Sheriff Kelly and driven out of the city in a closed carriage The people in the mob would not believe the mayor and continued to yell and demand that Peck be surrendered

Fired at the Officers

At 10 o clock the mob began for the third time to attack the city prison Some one in the crowd began shooting at the building This was followed by several more shots The officers in the building appeared at the windows and began to shoot over the heads of the mob A man with a shotgun then fired at the officers It is said that several officers were wounded

The crowd then began to smash in the windows of the city building and the firing became general Hundreds of shots were exchanged and one boy was carried dead from the street It is certain that dozens of men were wounded A report has been received from the city building that one of the officers had both his legs broken and that another [illegible] badly wounded Mayor Young is yet in the building and is directing a call for the militia All the ambulances of the city have been called out and the excitement has become intense The front of the city building is a total wreck and the fire bells are ringing

At 10 45 p m Prison Keeper John E Washer came from the city building and was knocked down by a brick He was badly injured about the head and had to receive medical attention

The Dead

It is known that two persons were instantly killed and another person is dying at the city hospital The dead are

FRED WORWICK aged 25 years is [illegible] under with buckshot and is now dying at the hospital A man named Mull was shot in the head and also in one of the legs It is certain that many more people were wounded At 11 p m the crowd was beginning to leave for home and the indications were that no more trouble would take place

Shortly after midnight the mob broke into a hardware store and stole all the firearms and ammunition they could find including shotguns rifles and revolvers and proceeded to the city building and opened fire on the defenders and finally set fire to the Columbia hall which adjoins the city building

The flames are spreading rapidly and the city building is likely to be destroyed

The range was blown to pieces and the water tank was badly damaged But what seems even more mysterious is that Mrs Wetmore was uninjured She was in the same room cutting meat when the accident occurred and came out without a scratch The fire alarm was sounded but there was no need of the department answering

AGUINALDO'S PATRIOTISM

Captain Coghlan Calls Attention to Some Interesting Testimony.

TO PHILIPPINE COMMISSION

Former Member of Aguinaldo's Cabinet Gives Away State Secrets—A $400,000 Patriot.

Captain Joseph B Coghlan of the United States navy the brave and well known captain of the Raleigh at the battle of Manila Bay is spending the summer in Manitou

Capt Coghlan's attention was called by a Gazette representative to the statements going the round of the press that Aguinaldo was a thorough patriot and that he never received any sum of money or promises thereof from the Spanish government to desist from making war upon Spain just prior to the Spanish-American war The captain was greatly amused at such statements The strongest refutation of any such idle talk is in the sworn testimony taken before the Philippine commission on August 12, 1899 said he on that day Senior Benito Legarda a member of Aguinaldo's cabinet up to December 1898 gave the following testimony that refers to this matter

Question When did you hear about the peace of Biac-na-bato? Were the insurgents bought up? Give us a full account of it

Answer The peace of Biac-na-bato was arranged by Pedro Paterno with Gen Primo de Rivera I do not recollect exactly the date It was in 1897 The only one of the terms which I have been told for I have not seen the treaty, was that the Spanish government agreed to make certain reforms here and to pay a certain sum of money The principal reforms which were to be made were not specified in the treaty but were agreed upon by word of mouth One of the principal reforms which was not stipulated in the treaty itself was the suppression of religious orders and the taking away from the religious orders of all interventions in the administration of towns The sum of money which was to be paid by the Spanish government was $1 500 000 to be divided into three payments as follows $400,000 to be paid on the spot $400 000 when Aguinaldo and other chiefs arrived in Hong-kong and $400 000 to be divided among the chiefs who remained here in the Philippines upon the delivery of all their arms

Question I would like to know how many of these chiefs there were?

Answer Some twenty or thirty I think not more

Question What excuse did Aguinaldo give these officers for receiving that money?

Answer He said that he was convinced that he could not make any further resistance against the Spanish and that the people in consideration of these reforms ought to drop the matter and also that he would be enabled to go to Hong-kong and prepare for another revolution with the money, provided that they did not fulfill the reforms as the majority of the promises were not stipulated in the treaty but were simply promised by word of mouth

Question Did they have at any time during the course of that revolution the idea of fighting for their independence?

Answer No I never heard this word independence spoken nor do I think that they are capable of understanding it even up to this time

Question Was there an end of hostilities [illegible] period of time between the Filipinos and Spaniards?

Answer Not exactly a complete cessation of hostilities because there were small parties of bandits who continued to make trouble They had more courage than a good many others and they would get together in small bands of 5 and 6 and attack the towns, and the Spanish managed to get rid of these small parties by means of money, buying their guns etc., but sometimes shooting many of them This $400 000 which ought to have been divided here was thus accounted for, and the people say that Primo de Rivera retained part of it and that Paterno also got some of it

There is another matter said Captain Coglan upon which the testimony before the Philippine commission throws considerable light, and that is with reference to Aguinaldo's feelings towards the Americans from the time he landed at Cavite after the battle of Manila Bay Legarda was questioned upon this matter and the report of the testimony taken shows that he testified as follows

Question Now will you tell us about the early relations between our own troops and those of the Filipinos?

Answer When I heard that Aguinaldo had come to Cavite I went over, for I considered it a piece of foolishness to continue resistance here and I was appointed sub secretary of the treasury in the revolutionary government

Question What reason was there for this change of feeling?

Answer The reason was because he knew he could not obtain independence and that was what he wanted

Question Why did he want independence?

Answer On account of his ambition.

Question. How did he know he could not obtain it?

Answer I suppose that no one promised it to him He had no promise of it and he had no hope of getting it, and he would not have been able to make war at all, or, in fact, get here without the aid offered him by the blockade of the American squadron In this time the troops disembarked at Paranaque and he wished to open hostilities against the Americans and he again passed the word along to resist in the different towns and give no aid whatever to the Americans

Question Do you know that of your own knowledge?

Answer, I know that of my own knowledge because I was there myself The great question was he did not have any cartridges and when the Americans brought the troops to Cavite he lost confidence in the Americans and left Cavite and established himself at Bacoor.

Question When did Aguinaldo get arms what arms did he get and how, did he get them?

Answer The first arms that he got were the ones which he was able to get from the arsenal at Cavite

Question Tell us how they were obtained in Cavite?

Answer The admiral allowed the people to enter Cavite and rob the place because he did not have force enough to occupy it in a military manner and the people came there from other towns and sacked Cavite completely There was nothing left further to be stolen in Cavite

The testimony referred to by Captain Coghlan is published in the official report of the Philippine [illegible] to the president

HALF A CENTURY AGO

California Entered the Union Celebration of the Anniversary at San Francisco An Event of National Importance

The name of California suggests to the imagination a strange country on the edge of the world where everything is tinged with gold It also reminds us of a by gone era of romance and adventure when a happy gentle race undisturbed by the Saxon's cruel fist content received the western shores of the continent

The present reality fulfills our dreams in many ways Here are majestic mountains on whose [illegible] giants grow and stupendous [illegible] in unbroken [illegible] The [illegible] seas in rare time set cloudless skies flowers [illegible] and luscious fruits at all seasons Big [illegible] ranches [illegible] sheep pastures innumerable [illegible] cities thriving towns busy steamships [illegible] to supply the industrial needs Vast distant [illegible] and much to be [illegible] country having a romantic history a delightful climate and vast resources—that's California

How time does fly One scarcely realizes that 50 years have elapsed since California entered the Union Yet it is that period of merely one chapter in her history Cortez in 1535 [illegible] Cabrillo in 1542 [illegible] in 1602 [illegible] in 1769 [illegible] and made [illegible] a [illegible] land mark forgotten by most of us The Mexican republic took charge in 1822. American occupation formally dates from July 7 1846 Gold was discovered in 1848 the year following witnessed a rush of gold seekers across the plains and around the Horn The announcement of 49 made California a household word and in 1850 another star was added to our flag

In memory of that bright star there will be held in San Francisco Sept 8 to 11 1900 a celebration of the semi centennial of California's admission as a state What loyalty and self abnegation [illegible] when Californian might with propriety have commemorated events with [illegible] a trifle centennial instead of only half a one

This celebration is to be along different lines then the Philadelphia Chicago and Omaha exposition it is to be less formal a compact [illegible] month of July and old settlers' reunion with plenty of western good cheer and good ship The four days programme provides for events of United States troops on parades regatta sacred concerts fireworks all kinds of field sports receptions excursions addresses and various spectacular features Great preparations are being made [illegible] The loyalty and hospitality of the citizens of California are proverbial Money will be spent freely to make the celebration this year a decided success It will be well worth crossing a continent to witness extended to every detail interest in the wonderful development of California

San Diego is a cosmopolitan city of 30 000 inhabitants very attractive for visitors at all seasons but particularly so in the fall It is pleasant there then no matter how hot the weather may be back east Ocean breezes carry coolness and to have to travel through the Cold Gate for trial across one of the finest land locked harbors in the world

The recent construction of the Santa Fe road into San Francisco thereby giving us the transcontinental line to [illegible] facilitating the transportation of visitors to the [illegible] plunge [illegible] the [illegible] Limited [illegible] Chicago and San Francisco [illegible] service [illegible] and the tickets to San Francisco can be bought

The Difference ...In Pianos

There are a good many grades of $350 pianos. Instruments are sold at that price which we would not be willing to sell from our store at all.

You can't tell much about the value of a piano, unless you are a piano builder. You are obliged to depend largely on the honesty of the house you deal with, and the makers of the instrument We have seen pianos at $225 that look, to the inexperienced eye as well as any $350 instrument, but after six months of use it would sound like the proverbial thump box So long as you have to depend on the judgment of others to some extent at least, would'nt you just as soon take the judgment of some of the world's greatest musicians backed by the money they paid for the pianos they recommend

You Know Paderewski! He has probably tried more makes of pianos than any other living pianist He recently purchased a

and presented it to the Paderewski Singing Society of Chicago He based his judgment of the instrument not alone on his own trial of it, but mentions in his letter and the "excellent accounts" he is constantly hearing of it, and remember Paderewski's associate are the best musicians of the age

Professor G. Sauvlett, who has half a dozen times traveled around the world as accompanist to Remenyi, the celebrated violinist, after inspecting practically every piano made, has just purchased for his own use from our Denver store a

These are a few of the recent practical recommendations for the Huntington and are worth dozens of good words not backed by the cash of the persons who utter them.

If you are thinking of buying a piano, come in and see us No necessity to purchase unless you like

Besides the Huntington we handle the Hallet & Davis, Sterling, Mendelssohn and other well known makes

Our sales are increasing rapidly and we have accumulated a stock of slightly used pianos and organs taken in exchange We need all our room for new goods so will let these slightly used upright pianos go at

went well last night although it is comparatively undeveloped They are such favorites that Messrs Montgomery and Buttner Walter Jones [illegible] Riley Maud Courtney Bessie Fanneman and a score of others that entertaining as it is now when next we see it we shall probably not recognize it as the same piece The lines are bright and original and quite a clever humor is shown in the conception and the working out of the plot It will do a big week and it is likely we shall not see such a combination of fun e com [illegible]

Since the above was written the comedians have been working out the play until it is a jewel It was written by George Ade of the Chicago Record the brilliant author of Artie and other books of the day

Readick's Black Crook Jr the beautiful spectacular which opened its own and the Labor Crowd's season last Sunday is doing a tremendous business in Denver this week Next Monday Aug 27 the show will be here at the opera house the date having been changed) with all its magnificent scenery and effects There are 30 complete sets used in the production and competent critics pronounce them the most beautiful that ever came from a studio Almost two tons of electric paraphernalia is carried by the company among the novelties being the revolving electric globes which have never been seen before The Inquantation scene is more weird and fascinating than the famous Brocken scene in Faust while the transformation scene is as beautiful as a poet's dream The company numbers 30 people Ten big novel vaudeville acts are introduced in the second and third acts

Mr Otto Rupp of 116 East Huerfano street says When I contracted a cold it either weakened or over excited my kidneys and as a result I was annoyed both day and night by too frequent action of the kidney secretions Reading about Doan's Kidney Pills curing similar cases, I procured a box at Smith Wilson Drug Co's store on North Tejon street and took it Much to my surprise and more to my gratification I was not only immediately helped but the weakness of over excitement of my kidneys passed away

Phonolyte

Next Sunday, Phonolyte will have two splendid articles. One about Thomas S. McMurray as a Gubernatorial Possibility, and the other about Robert W. Bonynge as a Congressional Possibility.

Every person interested in public men or public affairs should read these articles.

THE STREET RAILWAY FRANCHISE.

THERE are several things the city council should bear in mind in dealing with the proposed franchise of the Colorado Springs Rapid Transit Railway company.

First: That company claims a perpetual franchise to the streets now occupied by its lines. In any new franchise granted to it or to its successors the term of the existence of its present franchise should be definitely fixed so as to save future complications.

Second: No franchise for this or any other corporation or individual should be granted without proper compensation to the city therefor. This principle was established in the Citizen's Light, Heat and Power franchise, and it should be strictly adhered to in all cases.

Third: The present street car service, in time of running cars and in equipment, is far below the standard of what Colorado Springs needs and what she should demand, and no new franchise should be granted to any company without proper guarantees as to the service to be given.

Fourth: The fares to Manitou and Broadmoor should be reduced.

Fifth: There is an ordinance in force requiring all franchises to be submitted to a vote of the people. This is a splendid advisory measure and no franchise should be granted which does not meet with the approval of a majority of the people of the city. The recent light franchise was so submitted.

Sixth: Of course the aldermen will bear in mind their campaign pledges in dealing with this question, and in that connection it might be well to refresh their memories as to some of the questions propounded by the Good Government club and which were answered in the affirmative by every candidate on every ticket. They are as follows:

First—Is the granting of future franchises, do you favor making any condition that the city shall, under fair and equitable terms, have the right to purchase?

Second—Are you willing, in the event of a widespread public demand, to submit any future franchise to a vote of the people?

We are quite certain the aldermen will carefully consider all of the matters suggested above, and we call attention to them simply to emphasize their importance.

THE MAN BEHIND THE PLOW.

PHRASES have played an important part in the world's history. It may be question if there is anything in the world more potent than words. Hancock was defeated largely by this terse saying that the tariff is a local issue. In one sense this is true. In a larger sense it might very well be said that there is no such thing as a truly local issue. Humanity is bound together by a thousand unadmitted ties. Religion, commerce, blood and birth may hold us closely together, but there are what might be called the bonds of the five senses. Hunger and cold mean misery no matter where they are found. The failure of crops does not mean the sinking of the heart to the townsman that it does to the farmer, but before the winter is over he has a fellow feeling through the lightening of his pocketbook. There can be no prosperity that does not begin with and include the farmer.

It will pay anyone who is really interested in the future of this country to attend the sessions of the congress now being held in this city. Farming has changed since the days of the hand planter and the single cultivator. It differs widely in different sections of the country. The methods vary with the temperament of the people, and the view point.

It is, for instance, a little remarkable that the hospitable west makes a much wider distinction between employer and employe than the east, or it seems so until one learns the reason for this. "Back home," as many western farmers still put it, the "hired man" was frequently the son of a neighbor. He sat in the next pew in church and at the next desk in school to the children of his employer. He was part of the family in the neighborhood sense. His washing went into the general boiler, and his bed was made for him, howbeit it was not of roses, or even down. In the great west the hired man comes from no one knows where, and goes there again after a few months or weeks. He brings his blankets with him, and bunks as he can. If he is made of the right sort of stuff he doesn't remain a "hired" man more than a season or so, for there is land for the taking. If he is content to "climb another's stairs" he goes on his way the first time something does not suit him.

Again, in this state at least, the creamery is a much more universal institution than in most eastern states. Almost every small town has a creamery, or at least a [illegible] gradually [illegible] into disuse, and one of the heaviest tasks of the housewife has been taken from her.

Perhaps there is nothing that so fills the soul of the Eastern housekeeper with dismay as the unexpected announcement "The threshers are coming." This means a general baking and brewing and getting ready for from [illegible] In Colorado the dreaded threshers may come and go, and except for raids upon melon patches, grape vines, and tomato crops their presence is hardly felt. They travel with a wagon and their own cooking apparatus, and having completed a job move on to the next one.

Farming is hard work, and in too many cases it is unremunerative. A favorite Colorado joke tells of the man who says, "Why, hello, Jones; Where have you been; to your mine? Say you must be well off to own a mine," and the response, "Did you say you'd just come down from your ranch? Well, you must be a millionaire."

Farming is the most important work that can be done, since upon it depends the welfare of the republic, and it is a hopeful sign when thoughtful and intelligent men get together and consider the various problems that confront them in a broad-minded, liberal way. Much good will be accomplished by this convention for this state, and we trust for other states as well.

THE GREAT MELON FAIR.

NO citizen of Colorado Springs who can afford the time and the money should fail to attend the Rocky Ford melon fair this year. It will, to most of our people, be an interesting and instructive revelation of the great changes which irrigation has wrought in the Arkansas valley in the last few years. Most of us who used to travel on our eastern trips over the Santa Fe line before the happy advent of the shorter and more convenient Rock Island road into our city, remember the Arkansas valley as a beautiful cattle range only, with a few scattered hay ranches along the river. But the last ten years have changed the region into an agricultural and horticultural paradise the most beautiful and fruitful rural region in the state, unquestionably.

It is wise and right that the people of this city should interest themselves in this beautiful development. The section has become one of our most important food-producing centers, and we should be doing the character of our city an injustice and an injury by showing ourselves indifferent to the efforts, the hopes and the interests of those who produce so much of what we eat.

Nothing speaks so loudly of the selfishness and ignorance of a city as indifference to agriculture. Indifference to the lives, the labors and the enjoyments of the people who provide its food. Such selfishness indicates decadence.

The mines of Colorado are very great and the interests of our city in the mines are very large and important, but it will not do to forget for a moment that the farms of Colorado are now and for all future time must continue to be the mainstay of the state.

We should be glad to see several trainloads of our people go to Rocky Ford each day during the brief season of its melon-day festivities. We know from personal experience that they could hardly treat themselves to a more enjoyable outing. They would learn a great deal of interest and value to them and no doubt it would afford the people of the beautiful valley a genuine pleasure to find our city so interested in the grand work they have done and are doing—the work of redeeming the desert, even as the people of Egypt in the morning of the race redeemed the valley of the Nile. Already the town of Rocky Ford is a beautiful little city whose streets are lined with umbrageous trees, and whose homes are surrounded by lovely flower gardens. Its business buildings are fine and substantial and it is becoming the center of many infant industries related to farming and fruit-growing.

Starting about a dozen years back as a general free treat by a single melon-grower (a grower of watermelons only) to his friends in Pueblo, "melon-day" has developed gradually into a general agricultural and horticultural fair of large importance and extended interest. The free-melon feature, however, has never been abandoned—and we trust it never will be. It is the feature that renders the occasion perfectly unique and it is a sight of itself worth a pilgrimage to behold—tons of thousands of watermelons and muskmelons heaped up free to all free as air. The fair itself is the finest local fair held in the state, and is a veritable revelation of rural interests. It will prove a refreshing outing. Go and enjoy it—go by all means. The fare is but two dollars for the round trip, as shown in our advertising columns, and the occasion will prove one to be long and pleasantly remembered.

The warden of the state penitentiary, with praiseworthy interest in the morals of the state at large, has recommended a plan which would doubtless do much to suppress the shirt waist man. The warden's suggestion, which is said to have the consent of Governor Thomas, is that convicts in the penitentiary should wear striped shirt waists, which the warden alleges would be cheaper and better than the garb now worn. Aside from the question of whether this would be "cruel and unusual punishment" in violation of constitutional rights, the idea might be a good one, for if adopted, the "shirt waist man" might be apprehended on sight and promptly incarcerated.

Great is California! All Californians will tell you so. A Santa Barbara paper, without even the faintest blush of red ink on its face, in support of the claim that Santa Barbara can offer the best hunting grounds in the universe, relates the story of two boys, aged 13 and 15 years, who went out in the afternoon and returned the same night "with their horses loaded down with eight fine bucks." With game as plentiful as that story would indicate the Santa Barbarians doubtless have to have a trocha around their town to keep the herds of deer from trampling children in the street.

The dispatches from China published this morning are discouraging so far as the prospect of the restoration of normal conditions is concerned. The relief of the legations in Pekin, while imperatively the first object to be attained, now appears to have been but an important incident in the readjustment of affairs. Minister Conger and General Chaffee both report a chaotic condition in the Chinese capital, and the indications are that American troops must be kept on duty there during the entire winter.

Commenting on the fact that some 700 delegates were expected to attend the Indianapolis "anti-imperialist" convention and only 300 were present, the Los Angeles Herald expresses the opinion that "anti-imperialism" is only another illustration of inflated values.

BRYAN REVISED.

(Chicago Inter-Ocean.)

In his address at the annual picnic of the United Irish societies, last Wednesday, William Jennings Bryan said:

"The doctrine that all men are created equal will keep us together and make us one people. But destroy that doctrine and you have broken the cord that binds us together. Destroy that doctrine and instead of the reign of justice you will substitute the reign of force. Instead of the doctrine of reason you have the doctrine of the brute. Instead of right it will be might."

This was put forth by Mr. Bryan as Democratic doctrine. Lest anybody should be in doubt as to its meaning, the Inter-Ocean is constrained to revise it in accordance with the plain facts:

"The doctrine that all men are created equal will keep us together and make us one people, except in states having a large negro population, as, for instance, North Carolina, where we have just disfranchised 75,000 colored men, or in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and Florida, where, within the next three years, we propose to disfranchise 3,000,000 more.

"Destroy this doctrine of political equality and you break the cords that bind us together, save where you are likely to interfere with white supremacy and Democratic domination in the south. Instead of a reign of justice, you have a reign of force, although, of course, force and not justice is necessary south of Mason and Dixon's line. Instead of a doctrine of reason, you have the doctrine of the brute, instead of right it will be might, although no question of right can be considered where the equality of the negro is questioned or denied by the southern white."

It would be too much, perhaps, to ask Mr. Bryan to make these few changes for the sake of truth, but it is not too much to ask those who heard him last Wednesday to make them for him.

The Greatness of Pueblo

FITZ-MAC WILL WRITE ABOUT IT FOR THE GAZETTE

FEW people of Colorado realize how vast the industrial and commercial enterprises of Pueblo have grown to be.

The early history of the town was so full of bombastic brag, and so wofully deficient in united, practical, well-directed effort toward achieving the splendid career for which nature had so munificently endowed and so manifestly destined the city that it will surprise most of the people even of Colorado to learn how really great the city has grown to be during the last 10 years of modest, silent, united, persevering effort of her people.

From the first settlement of Colorado by Americans it was the observation of all that the geographical situation of Pueblo with reference to an abundance of water for irrigation, to the close proximity of the greatest coal, iron and precious mineral fields of the state, to the mountain passes which opened a natural line for transcontinental railways, to its southern position and its relatively low altitude which united in giving a most excellent climate—that the fortunate conjunction of all these advantages eminently fitted the place to become the greatest city between the Missouri river and the Pacific coast.

The early settlers also believed this, believed it thoroughly—but it was the misfortune of the situation that, they had so little commercial instinct, so little industrial enterprise, so little initiative [illegible] of the city to achieve its great destiny without any effort on their part—thought they had nothing to do but take up government land at $1.25 and sit down and wait till the influx of population increased its value to ten thousand or a hundred thousand an acre.

They had heard of such things happening in Chicago and they were so inexperienced in the larger activities of life that they hoped and expected it would happen in Pueblo. But they had heard only half the story; it had never in fact so happened in Chicago nor anywhere else. Nothing but human intelligence and human energy can give value to land anywhere.

They were mostly people from southward of the latitude of the fierce, darting, splendid energies that united to make a prairie town—[illegible] united to make Denver great.

They were for the most part people whose industrial experiences were limited to agriculture or the small enterprises of village life in Missouri and along the frontier of that day—estimable people in their way, but not the people to build a great city.

From the first indeed there were among them always a few men of the city-building character—men who knew, as the founders of Denver, the founders of Chicago, the founders of every great city knew, that hope without effort achieves nothing and that even hope and effort can achieve little unless they be united, persevering, indefatigable and intelligently directed. But the early settlers of Pueblo were largely of that independent-minded class of Americans who cannot bear to submit to direction [illegible] and therefore that united effort which alone can make a city strong was lacking.

Great efforts were indeed sometimes made—great and united—but they were not sufficiently persistent to establish unity of action as a municipal character. They were intermittent. No city in the same boxes been and sacrificed itself more generously in the early days to secure railroads. Geographically and industrially it was from the first unquestionably entitled to be the chief railroad center of the state, but Denver struck the pace that wins and went ahead and Pueblo that should have been first—and that may yet become first—has remained till now second.

The Gazette is not among those who submit to the belief that it is destined to remain second. Our city, almost unnoticed outside, without any of the early day "[illegible] brag and bombast," for the last 10 years has been [illegible] ahead till its industries are scarcely second to those of Denver and in some important lines already distinctly ahead.

Pueblo is rising in character (municipal character) to the splendid industrial and commercial pre-eminence for which nature destined it.

The old idle, land-holding moss-backers who held it back have lost their grip. The strong, intelligent, energetic new element who understand that hope without effort is foolishness are in the saddle, and they are not the kind of men to get left.

There is every present reason to predict that the census of 1910 will show Pueblo a larger city than Denver is today—and perhaps a larger city than Denver will show at that time. Everything in nature favors it and lack of municipal character—the character to act unitedly and powerfully for determined municipal interests—can alone defeat the city's manifest destiny to industrial and commercial greatness.

Pueblo has heretofore maintained an attitude of injured merit toward Denver because Denver beat her in the early race for prominence and wealth, but the fundamental idea for Pueblo to grasp in that relation is that nobody has injured her and nobody can injure her but herself. Denver was justly entitled to everything she won. She had nothing and has nothing but what she won by brave and splendid unity of effort—by acting with one mind as one man through long years of intelligent, [illegible] civic life. Denver put herself on two meals a day (or less) in the early times to advertise her advantages and attract immigration and capital. She got them—and she grew and prospered. Pueblo made some fine spurts to the same purpose, but they were spasmodic, disconnected from a settled and definite purpose, and as a matter of course resulted in quick disappointment. Not but they bore some fruit of lasting profit to the city—of great profit today—but the results that followed were nothing to what they would have been if she had stuck persistently to the job and kept up her licks.

The tide is now running strongly in her favor. Will she take it at the flood? It is confidently believed she will. It is believed she has learned her lesson well through the bitterness of disappointment—learned that the greatest natural advantages amount to little [illegible] generous, but continuous, watchful, persistent force. That is what makes [illegible] reputation and reputation is a valuable thing to a city, a profitable thing. To be, is well; but to be and insist on being known to be is best. Pueblo has been gaining a strong character these last 10 years and what will benefit her most now is to have her character known where it will enlist interest and do her good.

The Gazette will do its share for Pueblo in that line. It has a larger circulation than all other Colorado papers together in the Atlantic states and England, and that circulation is largely among the class of people who are looking for a good place to invest money and inaugurate enterprises. It is the purpose to present Pueblo to [illegible] as to home readers in such a manner as to fix its great advantage in their attention.

To this end the Gazette has engaged specially the services of Fitz-Mac, the most widely-known newspaper writer of the state and [illegible] handle the subject with matured judgment and fidelity—above all to render it interesting—no one will question. Writing, alone, is not sufficient. To do any good it must be writing that will get read—that will fix attention—and that is the kind of writing Fitz-Mac does.

The Gazette will bring out a special Pueblo edition, splendidly illustrated from photographs specially made, and it is believed the effort cannot fail to present the great natural advantages of Pueblo as an industrial and commercial center in a light that will do much to establish its reputation abroad permanently. It is a large and expensive undertaking, a labor of many days, but the best special talent and it is hoped and believed the effort will be appreciated by [illegible]

FROM THE PRESS OF THE NATION.

Getting to Be a Creditor Nation.

(Philadelphia Inquirer.)

Commenting upon the action of Great Britain in placing the larger part of its recent loan in this country, the Financial News has some judicious remarks upon the momentous revolution, whose progress is thus illustrated. It recalls the fact that free trade papers used to argue that the United States could never become a creditor nation so long as its protective tariff would prevent the development of an export trade, and because without an export trade it would be impossible to accumulate the capital which a creditor nation must have at its command.

Seldom has theory been more absolutely [illegible] connection. As the inquirer has repeatedly pointed out, but as cannot be too often repeated for the guidance and instruction of the American public, it used to be the stock argument of the free trader that the United States could not do any considerable trade in the markets of the world until it proceeded to do business on a free trade basis. The idea was that other peoples would not buy from us unless we bought from them, and that so long as we maintained a protective tariff we should have to content ourselves with domestic trade.

Some protectionists were willing to admit the soundness of this argument, that they contented themselves with replying that the home market was immeasurably more valuable than any market foreigners could provide; but others argued that people were not going to buy from us because we bought from them, but that they were going to buy where they could be best suited without regard to reciprocity. Experience has shown that the latter had the right of it. The fact accomplished has justified their expectation. The United States has maintained its protective policy, and yet its exports of manufactured articles are increasing all the time, and increasing with a rapidity for which there is no precedent.

There is a proverb which tells us that an ounce of fact is worth a pound of theory, and that's what's the matter with Hannah.

Bryan's Lame Defense.

(Omaha Bee.)

Senator Hoar characterizes Mr. Bryan's defense of his course in procuring the ratification of the Paris treaty as exceedingly weak and lame. It will not bear examination for a moment, said the Massachusetts senator. Mr. Hoar did everything in his power to prevent the ratification of the treaty and he declares that everything he tried to do "was brought to naught by the action taken by Mr. Bryan, an action taken against the remonstrance of the wisest leaders in his own party." Among these was Senator Money of Mississippi, who made a strong speech against ratification, saying among other things: "Can any man say we are going to have peace by ratifying this treaty? Yes, we will have peace with Spain, but we will begin war with the Filipinos." He further said regarding the resolutions that had been introduced in the senate that they were worth little more than as a text for open discussion in that body. There is no doubt that Senator Money had Mr. Bryan's attitude in mind when he made this speech.

The New York Evening Post, which is in accord with Mr. Bryan regarding so-called "imperialism," says of his defense that it is the weakest part of his notification speech. In spite of Bryan's course in urging the ratification of the treaty that "we shall never be quite satisfied that it was not a part of his plans to keep this issue alive for political use," a view that is widely entertained. At all events, the responsibility of Mr. Bryan for the ratification of the Paris treaty is unquestionable and no amount of explanations can relieve him of this. As to the anti-imperialism of the Bryanite party, it is correctly characterized by Senator Hoar as a mask to cover the things they have had most at heart from the beginning—the free coinage of silver and the other demands of the Chicago platform.

Sensible Judge Garrison.

(Philadelphia North American.)

Judge Charles S. Garrison, of the supreme court of New Jersey, is a man of [illegible] He thinks it no part of a magistrate's duty to look funereal. So when black silken robes were proposed for wear on the bench he objected to them as equally undemocratic and uncomfortable. He preferred to leave the art of "make-up" to the stage, holding, presumably, that true judicial dignity can best be shown by jurists who prove their capacity as lawyers and their integrity as men. Consequently it is not surprising that Judge Garrison scorns the prejudice against the "shirt-waist man," who horrifies decollete ladies in hotel dining rooms and alarms gents who are denied the ability to think.

His Honor appeared in his official place last Saturday as a shirt waist man, in a buff silk shirt [illegible] Judge Garrison was comfortable, and looked it. In this national costume he knew as much law and was better fitted to do business than if he had been encumbered with the [illegible] coat of course. And though he may [illegible] have departed awa[illegible] a mindless spectator to the same extent as he would have [illegible] a theatrical [illegible] hatched with a [illegible] developed in a sable gown, he could [illegible] himself with the idea that the best useful part of a judge's functions is to excite superstitious reverence in the souls of the vulgar with his clothes.

WILL LAY THE CORNERSTONE

Ceremonialities Incident to the Erection of the Court House--Flower Show Begins.

It is as happy a idea that will mark the cornerstone laying of the new courthouse [illegible] The feature of itself has called forth much interest and from every part of the county the people will come today to attend the celebration The excursion parties of Masons from the state at large will arrive early in the morning to join the local brethren in executing the programme that has been arranged Prominent speakers from the ranks of the order have been invited to be on the platform but there are many others in the county whose addresses would not be bad who are cordially invited to make themselves known to the committee upon they will receive a badge of recognition from the committee in waiting and be escorted to seats on the platform Men and women alike who have been residents of El Paso county since the year [illegible] are invited

The programme will begin with the laying of Masonic at their rooms in the Opera House block for the street parade [illegible] will be held [illegible] a procession northward on Tejon to Kiowa street to the old court house [illegible] on foot and not in carriages as [illegible] stated The procession will move down Nevada to Pikes Peak avenue the city officials will fall into line and the final march will be along Pikes Peak avenue and streets to Acacia square where the speeches will take place The programme includes an address by Judge A T Gunnell of Leadville

FLOWER SHOW BEGINS IN THE NORTH PARK

At two o'clock in the afternoon the flower show will open in the [illegible] which have been pitched in the North Park The indications are that the show will eclipse all former events in the line in Colorado It is practically a continuous show which was inaugurated a year ago and which was so successful that it was decided to make it an annual affair

The show this year promises to be even more successful than that of last year There were 80 entries up to 10 o'clock yesterday morning and the entries in the show which is being held in the room in the North park building [illegible] before night were almost 200

BAND WILL PLAY IN NORTH PARK TWO DAYS

On account of holding the flower show the band concerts tonight and tomorrow night will be in the North park Director Irvine has arranged the following programme for this evening

March The Colorado Midland Band Bloepfer
Overture Orpheus (by request) Offenbach
Mosaic characteristique Whispering Flowers F V Blom
Grand sacred potpourri Joy to the World (by request) Bartlett
Caprice heroique La Reveil du Lion (awaking of the lion) Paskali
Intermission of ten minutes
An Afternoon in Camp hop Lee Reeves (by request) O'Hare
Selections from The Singing Girl Herbert
Comic song The Ben Bintstrike (by request) Dallas
(The band did not strike but all came back)
Descriptive fantasia The Fall of Manila
This number is descriptive of the action taken by the First Colorado U S V Infantry band at Manila August 13-1898 Sounds of stormy night breaks in on a quiet morning with the cry of danger in the distance followed by company bugle calls as the clock strikes [illegible] between two messages of the hard fought battle Assembly adjutants call the chaplains prayer fall in right dress count fours right forward march arriving at trenches our troops take positions signal from Admiral Dewey's fleet to move forward Manila the bombardment signal for land forces to move forward charge by the band plays A Hot time Hip Hip Hurrah! as the American colors are hoisted at Fort Malate San Antonio de Abad Assembly of troops and triumphal march to the city sounding with Star Spangled Banner as the American flag is unfurled over the city of Manila

Requests should be sent Director Irvine in advance Address Midland city ticket office 13 North Tejon street The band matinee concert will be given in North park on Friday instead of Saturday of this week

Indiana Man Writes of Political Outlook

[illegible] McArthur a well known Democrat and Republican of this city is in receipt of a letter from John Lamb master at Connersville Ind in which he writes the political forces existing in his part of the state [illegible] a clear cut way who is Democrat and who is Republican and what he is talking about

[illegible] markets of prices and [illegible] were [illegible] but many of them attribute the cause to the [illegible] McKinley [illegible] 1896 [illegible] At this time I can see no change if he for the better In my district I am satisfied it will be for the Mechanics and [illegible] that the mines and factories might open Quite a few of them always a Democrat told me the other day that he didn't have a day off since McKinley was elected and if the men in their factory ever got a rest they would have to elect Bryan This sentiment is so thoroughly ingrained into the minds of the people that nothing can move them The conditions on the farms are prosperous and just as reflected in all I know personally of many not with us in politics will be the vote I am not [illegible] know of no reason why the same conditions should not prevail generally for the people in Indiana are not fools and will not vote themselves into the poor house [illegible] for eight years

Congressman Bell Visits the Congress

[illegible] candidate for re election to congress from the second district was at the Alamo yesterday mingling with farmers from various parts of the state and later at the meeting in the high school auditorium

I have not formally announced myself as a candidate for re election Mr Bell in reply to [illegible] but it is generally understood among the people that he will be [illegible] today to mingle with the farmers [illegible] They are a noble lot of people and when one studies their relations with the world and its progress it is cheering to be with them

The public building for Colorado Springs Well of course nothing can be done with it while congress is in session but I am sure it will go through all right It has a good place on the calendar being No 5 in a long list of similar measures requiring appropriations

Mr Bell is naturally sanguine of Democratic success in Colorado this fall but like other Democrats realizes that there is a hard fight on [illegible] will be in the city several days

The Demise of Judge John Fields Yesterday

After a useful life of 64 years 20 of which were spent in Colorado Springs Judge John Fields died rather suddenly at his home No 808 North Weber street yesterday morning at 2.30 o'clock Where he came here in 1880 for his health he rapidly recovered and has been a hard worker and energetic public man but a few days ago became ill and sank steadily to the end It was only 10 days ago that Judge Fields addressed a large crowd from the balcony of the first floor of the First National Bank building in the night air the occasion being the raising of the McKinley and Roosevelt banners [illegible] to affect him however and the fatal illness is a surprise to all his friends The death of the father marks the third in his family during the last two years Two children died within a year of each other Miss Lulu Fields one of the surviving daughters is at home while Miss Oma is in Europe where she has been spending the summer She sails for home today or tomorrow Funeral arrangements will not be completed until eastern relatives are heard from

John Fields was a native of Indiana where he was born in 1836 When an infant he was taken by his parents to Illinois and there received his common school and legal education He was married in 1864 and practiced law until 1880 when he came to Colorado in search of health locating in this city He has been a lover of Colorado Springs and [illegible] been a material aid in many of the public movements and in furthering the interests of the city generally

Said a prominent citizen yesterday I have been attending the Farmers congress during the two days and have been impressed with the marked [illegible] patriotism of the assembly asserts itself frequently It seems to me that it would be quite fitting if the American flag were raised on the building while the congress is in session

Secretary Stahl of the Farmers congress said yesterday that he was not satisfied with the practicability of holding the congress in Colorado Springs Large enough in keeping with the city and all that he said but it interferes with our meetings to have so many attractions at hand for them to take in The visit to the zoo to get a taste of what they intend doing to put off all the rest until after the business sessions but they find this hard to do They want to see the sights and the meetings come second in consideration

COMMITTEE ON RESOLUTIONS

Its Work Is too Extensive for It to Get Through According to Schedule and Its Report Is Deferred Until Tomorrow—Eight Cities Bid for Next Congress.

Yesterday's sessions of the National Congress were attended by large numbers of Colorado Springs people as well as the delegates Secretary Stahl estimates that there are now in attendance at the congress about 600 delegates but adds that they do not all attend at once A good many of them are seeing the sights of the community and reading the proceedings of the congress

Late in the morning the committee on resolutions went into session in one of the rooms of the building for the purpose of drawing up the resolutions which the delegates will be asked to adopt According to the by laws of the organization the committee should have reported at the session yesterday afternoon but the work the members have in hand is too great for them to have completed it in time to report yesterday and they have announced that they will not be ready to report until tomorrow

The resolutions go to the committee in typewritten form as the fathers of them desire to have them adopted They are referred to the committee after being read to the convention by title only The committee is now considering the following

Favoring river and harbor improvement

2 Favoring establishment of an American mail service in steamships to foreign countries

3 Favoring an inter oceanic canal

4 Favoring the Grout bill

5 On the merchant marine

6 Favoring rural free mail delivery

7 Favoring a return to our early policy of encouraging and defending the employment of America in shipping in the foreign trade

8 Concerning improvement and distribution of farm machinery

9 On rural mail delivery

10 Relative to excessive shipping charges

11 Relative to [illegible] school board for use of building

12 Relative to the leasing of the public domain

13 On irrigation

Light cities are in line for the next gathering of the farmers They are united in the east and in the west as will be seen by the following list of applicants Fargo Sioux Falls Detroit Erie Pa Buffalo Richmond Nashville and Little Rock

The speeches of the morning session were delivered by Hon J B Killebrew of Nashville Tenn who spoke of The Natural Resources of the South and by Hon G M Whitaker dairy commissioner of the city of Boston

Mr Killebrew spoke in part as follows

Mr J B Killebrew of Tennessee spoke about the resources of the south He said in part

One thing is certain that the south is the coming center of the world's industry The clouds of prejudice and ignorance that have obscured its splendor are passing away It represents a greater number of favorable exhibits for human industry and human energy than any other country on the globe It is and the most successful of all nations from an industrial view is [illegible] upon other countries for material for its manufactories and food for her people and markets for her products The south is able to feed the population to supply all the needed material for manufacturing industry far greater than that of England and it has only to seek a market for those products There is no other country on earth [illegible] to the capital as the south six of the most powerful factors for accumulation and creating industry are cotton in each of which the south is [illegible] to be found [illegible] the south It is [illegible] country that supplies more than four of these

Homes there will find no place in all the west [illegible] the south in which to live [illegible] that has a more charming society a greater variety of soils or crops more and richer pasturage more and better markets cheaper and more fertile lands a more generous and law abiding population a more healthful and [illegible] climate a region more abundantly watered where the winters are short and mild but tempered where the summers are not extreme in heat where the rainfall is ample but not excessive where the fruits and breadgrains flourish in greater variety and with more certainty than elsewhere in America

Many [illegible] are now settling in Texas and other states upon lands that are [illegible] of no great productive capacity sells for north of the Ohio river and in a region where the cost of life are doubled by the severity of the climate the hospitality of the people and the ease with which the necessities [illegible] are obtained

Mr Whitaker's address was an extremely long one but was full of interesting and valuable facts and figures

Mr R W Tansill spoke of the resources of the Pecos Valley, by stating that the [illegible] there exist for the young man who desires to establish a profitable home of his own

A J Lockridge of Indiana spoke of the Mission of the Farmers and Mr J A Springer of Colorado talked on the Dairy Industry in relation of the West these being the afternoon addresses

In the evening Hon T P Brown of Connersville Ind made a very able talk on the relation of forestry to agriculture The address was one of the strong ones of the congress and is replete with valuable suggestions of special importance to Colorado and the west This address will appear in full in Sunday's Gazette

In the absence of S C Kissner of Ohio who was to discuss The Telephone and the Farmer Mr Brooks of Massachusetts delivered an extremely interesting address on agriculture [illegible] the idea that the soil is [illegible] and the seed time and harvest will never cease It is essential that agriculture [illegible] the most [illegible] from the land [illegible] at up the greater portion of the taxes The speaker and a number of delegates visited the German system of traveling tutors of agricultural pursuits

A resolution by W H Clark of Colorado urging congress to action to assist in irrigation of arid lands was referred to the proper committee without reading It will come up later

ALEX J. STRACHAN FOR COMMISSIONER

Another candidate for the office of county commissioner is announced He is a representative of the country and comes from the southern part of the county although residing only eight miles from Colorado Springs

Alex J Strachan who resides in the Mountain precinct being manager of the Cheyenne Mountain ranch is a candidate for the Republican nomination He has resided in El Paso county for 25 years during all of which time he has been engaged in ranching and kindred occupations His career has been that of a shrewd and successful business man and the esteem in which he is held in country and city alike is assurance that his race for the nomination will be a strong one He is as yet the only candidate from the country

Mr Strachan is the son of William Strachan who has been for 25 years one of the foremost sheep and wool growers in El Paso county or this section of the state and who is now the owner of very extensive ranches

Mr J C Plumb ex mayor of Colorado Springs is also mentioned for the nomination

If you are open to conviction hear Judge Charles Gibbons of Chicago who is familiar with labor issues at Temple theater tomorrow evening Meeting of El Paso county Republican club If you are a Republican bring a [illegible]

WORK RESUMED ON CALEDONIA

Sinking Begun on the New Shaft--Work Was Also Resumed on the Abe Lincoln, in Poverty Gulch.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek Aug. 22.—The morning work was resumed on the Caledonia mine on the west spur of Gold hill with a force of 30 men, employed by Boston parties who hold a long lease. This property has been idle now for more than two months. Besides the work in the 200 foot level sinking was begun on the new shaft. When 100 feet more of work has been done in this shaft a level will be started. When W. F. Burns organizer of the Monarch company which is working this property left the district last month he stated that his company would either abandon the Caledonia or would work it in the most energetic manner. The company has almost unlimited backing.

Work was resumed yesterday on the Abe Lincoln mine in Poverty gulch now owned by W. S. Stratton. The machinery has been overhauled and a compressor has been ordered for the property. During the operation of this mine by the Mirinett Mining company some of the richest sylvanite ore in the history of the camp was taken out. Water prevented that company from further operations but now the mine is dry with the exception of a little surface water. The work of sinking will be commenced as soon as the new compressor is in place. The men are now working in two levels in each of which there is medium grade ore in sight.

Walter F. Rock who with A. H. Mackey of Denver owns the lease on the property of the Gold Sovereign M. Co. stated this morning that the output at present is confined to about five tons a day, the production of the Davis sub lease. The ore is of low grade and is taken from the Lovett vein at a depth of 240 feet. Davis is under contract to sink 100 feet more in these workings before the expiration of his sub lease next July.

C. G. Jackson, who is sub leasing in the Gold Sovereign tunnel workings engaged in sinking has gone down 40 feet on a hundred foot list below the 300 foot point in the winze. Cross-cutting will commence at the 400 foot point early in October.

The tunnel of the Compass Mining and Leasing company has been driven about 300 feet into Copper mountain from the south slope. One hundred feet more will be necessary before the bore enters the diorite dyke. The bore is now in Ft. Wilcox company's territory. An expert sent out last week by the Standard oil stockholders of the Compass company made an examination of the Wilcox and other properties held by the Compass company under lease. He refused to make any statement as to what the character of the report would be.

The Home Mining company mining in the central part of this city has its shaft down now 40 feet. Machinery will be installed within a few days a brick shaft house being now nearly completed. The contract for sinking the shaft calls for a depth of 160 feet. When this work has been completed a cross cut will be driven to reach the vein which is exposed in the basement of the Collins hotel.

Victor G. Hills a surveyor of this city, has purchased from James H. Freeman of Cripple Creek the Delta lode on Battle mountain. The consideration is not named in the deed. In addition to its value on account of location there is a good vein exposed in the property from which pay assays are obtainable.

The Cripple Creek Sampling and Ore [illegible] of incorporation showing an increase of its capital stock to 250,000 shares of a par value of $1 each. The change was made because funds were needed for the new sampler to be built at Goldfield and which will be the largest in the state.

The Rescue Mining company of Denver has received a patent for the C. W. D. Old Boy and Apex lodes.

A STRIKE ON TWIN SISTERS

Bull Hill Property Has an Altogether New Vein Opened Up on the Southern End--Practically a Surface Strike and Assays Low.

An altogether new strike has been made on the Twin Sisters claim of the company of the same name. On August the first J. M. Vincent who owns a lease on the entire property granted a sublease to J. H. White on the southern extremity of the claim. The sub-lessee set in to work trenching for a suitable spot to sink a shaft and at a depth of twelve feet a wide vein was uncovered between phonolite and basalt walls. The ore across the vein is naturally not very rich and a fair average is the result. Considering the depth and the breadth of the vein this showing is not bad and there is much encouragement in the fact that the vein extends due north and south as do most of the great producing veins in the district. The sub-lessee is very well pleased with his find and will start at once to sink a shaft and otherwise follow up his strike. On the main workings of the Vincent lease some very good ore is being sent out occasionally from the property, the last shipment consisting of 18 tons and returning $70 a ton for the lot. The shaft is only [illegible] the lessees are to be commended for thus continuing the shaft to a depth where the ship is will be permanent. The vein which is uncovered in this main workings is good one being two or three feet wide and the assays average three, ounces. The new strike however was made not far from the Kentucky Belle's side lines and the vein will probably be reopened on the ground of this company. The Twin Sisters company has a total acreage of about eight acres on Bull Hill most of which is corbered by the Twin Sisters claim while in addition the company owns a fraction of the Maria Sheriff and Kentucky Belle all of which properties are in the vicinity of the Twin Sisters. Although the assays of the new strike are decidedly low the vein is of a very promising character both as to direction and formation of the walls.

ANOTHER VEIN ON ROANOKE

Phonolitic Quartz Worth $40 a Ton Discovered at Grass Roots--The Vein Supposed to Dip Toward Hermosa Ground.

There is considerable activity on Mineral hill this living justified by the recent developments which several properties are showing up. The latest favorable report regarding this locality is of the strike which has been made at the depth of 17 feet on the Roanoke claim. This is one of the promising properties in this section and a most very fair ore has already been shipped from this claim. The new strike was made in a hole recently started and the find was made practically at grass roots. The vein which is uncovered is totally different from any other lead ever opened up on this hill as in character the vein is strikingly similar to the veins opened up on the great producing hills. The vein is [illegible] inches wide and assays two ounces in gold to the ton. The rock is a phonolite quartz and there is no doubt that if depth were attained the ore would appear with sylvanite formation as the character of this quartz is conducive to these rich deposits. The find will be thoroughly prospected and a shaft will be sunk on the vein. This discovery was not made on the main workings as these were destroyed by an explosion of dynamite last week. The shaft and boiler house which were blown up are now being repaired and the claim will soon be in condition [illegible]. The Roanoke is worked by the company which is named the Cripple Creek City Mining and Land company, this being the same institution which owns the Carlisle mine on Gold Hill. The Carlisle has recently been shut down owing to lack of funds to further develop the property. The two veins which have been discovered on the Roanoke are said to cross the Blue Chain of the Hermosa company and there is a current belief on this claim which is actively sinking to cut the lands with a suitable depth. The new strike on the Roanoke is remarkable since it is the first mineral found on this hill that did not run high in iron values which is a very good indication for the discovery.

UNION HAS $375,000 IN TREASURY

The sale of the Pikes Peak-Orpha May group of claims belonging to the Union Gold Mining company was formally put through yesterday.

The control represented over one million shares of stock and this was voted solidly for the sale of the property for $150,000 without any opposition. The property will comprise the Pikes Peak Gold, Sold Mull in Peck Alten and Adopted comprising about [illegible] acres. It was purchased by Stratton's Cripple Creek Mining and Development company.

The company is now left with about $375,000 in the treasury and the patented Domenico lines about nine acres located on Bull Hill next to the Deadwood of the New Orleans company, the Maud Helena of the Pilgrim Consolidated company and the Pluto and Lucky Lady mining company. The claim is being actively developed by lessees and some shipments have been made.

It is understood that the $300,000 will be distributed among the stockholders in the shape of a 25 cent dividend among the 1,500,000 shares. After this the company will have from $250,000 to $300,000 remaining in the treasury.

ANOTHER COLORADOAN WRITES FROM THE BEACH OF CAPE NOME

States that the Country for Many Many Miles Around is Full of Gold--Letter from Lloyd N. Adamson.

Nome City, Alaska, August 7, 1900.

W. C. Shapcott, Pres. The Colorado & Alaska Gold M. Co., Colorado Springs, Colo.

Dear Sir—I have spent several days running over the country in the immediate vicinity of this city. The season has been very dry which has retarded the output of gold as much is being taken out. I sat in the Bank of Cape Nome for about an hour the day after my arrival and during that time I saw $9,16.00 in dust taken in over the counter in amounts ranging from $6 up to several hundred. But most of the amounts were small. The bank in their bank vaults $100,000 in dust which they send out to the states to-day.

Day before yesterday I went out eight miles to the head of Sicoli gulch where a rich strike has been made and got acquainted with the manager of the property. He had three teams scraping off the surface and one team hauling water to wash it. He informed me that with one rocker and two men he took out enough gold to pay all expenses. I struck him for a lease or what is called a lease in the states. He said he was just starting and would let me know in a day or two. I will go up again tomorrow.

As soon as I can get a horse for packing I intend to go [illegible] where I intend to either buy or make some locations. The distance is about 40 miles. I hear good reports from that district but like all the balance of the creeks the water is scarce but a good sluice head is expected in the spring so I will make the securing of good property the main object and intend to get all that I possibly can.

I [illegible] hard work to get acquainted with the district as it is so extensive and the tundra is very hard to get over as you sink ankle deep in mess and water every step you take. I did considerable running yesterday on the beach about eight miles above here. A man by the name of Lampman offered me a lease on a piece of ground at 2 per cent. royalty. I got from 20 to 100 colors in each pan but they were very fine. I do not want to locate myself until I secure locations for next season's work or sooner if practicable. It would be necessary to get a small gasoline engine say 6 horse power and about 200 feet of cotton hose 6 to 8 inches in diameter also about 5 feet of flumes for the beach work.

Men rocking with cradles only make about $4.00 to $6 per day sometimes not more than $2.00 per day of 10 hours. The beach is lined with tents for 30 or 40 miles and in many places working the sand over the third time. Most of them are just working for enough to get back to the states.

There is an excess population of at least 10,000 people and robbery, sandbagging and murder is the order of the day. Night before last I was awakened by [illegible] tent near mine. He was slugged and robbed of all the money he had. The tents where I [illegible] hardly get through to the street. How long this condition will last God only knows. But as cold weather approaches it will increase. The place is now under martial law.

We had a storm at sea on the night of the 1st and the next morning the beach was strewn with wreckage and 8 or 10 fine vessels thrown high up on the shore and one fine large sailing schooner broken to pieces. The surf came rolling in about 20 feet high. The town of Nome is composed of four principal streets two of which are well built up and I am told that the whole has been done within two months with exception perhaps of half a dozen wooden structures. The streets are from one half mile to one and one half miles in length. But you cannot conceive of the chaotic state of affairs prevailing. It is simply beyond description.

The cemetery is already quite large and the graves look as though they had all been dug within 48 hours. They keep a supply of dug graves on hand all the time and undertakers are busy.

The country for many many miles is full of gold and the future will develop an output that will astonish the world. Capital is now coming in and the country is filling up with plants preparing for next season's operations that would astonish the average man. building is going on rapidly and carpenters get from $4 to $4.50 an hour. Miners get $5 to $8 per day of 10 hours. As soon as possible I will go over into the Bonanza district and examine some properties. It is about 60 miles east of here and will require on my part considerable time and expense but I may make it a paying investment for the company. I feel sure I can if there is any gold in appreciable quantities in the gravel. We might buy it or get a long lease on 10 per cent royalty though those that lease here generally pay from [illegible] to 50 per cent according to amount of values taken out and expense incurred in getting it out. Indeed there is so much to do that I hardly know just how to start in. But as soon as I get my bearings in good shape and [illegible] to act intelligently will do effective work. In the meantime am not losing an hour or valuable time.

I send this out privately on the S. S. Oregon as the mail here cannot be trusted at all, they being some weeks behind in distribution and also in forwarding. I go down the beach eight miles today to Nome river and the party I am going with is waiting for me.

Yours very truly,

L. N. Adamson, Supt.

NEWS FROM DEADWOOD

Special to the Gazette.

A big mining deal is pending in the Horsebrende district on the Tom Blair property. C. H. Christy, Sherman Jones, W. W. Donner, J. L. Skadon and Binny Donner of Muncyen, Ind., of Sioux Falls, Dak., all prominent men of their cities have been examining the property and it is stated that a deal has been consummated. An open cut has been run several hundred feet along the source of a vein of milling ore which assays about $15 per ton gold. The district is one of the largest in the Black Hills and it is being visited by a number of people with capital to invest. Castle creek on the south furnishes water for milling purposes.

There is a great deal of activity in the vicinity of Ragged Top owing to the erection of several new cyanide plants and the opening up of several new properties. The Portland company has a large force of men at work in Portland and the south Dakota company farther west is working two shifts developing large ore bodies. The Spearfish Mining company at Ragged Top proper has a new cyanide plant one of the largest in the Hills nearly ready for operation and will employ about 100 men at work in this camp. On Annie creek over the divide from Ragged Top the Deadwood company has commenced treating ore in its new 100 ton cyanide plant. The ore is hauled about two miles by teams and it is expected that $4 per ton will be made on every ton treated. The Lincoln Mining company is working two shifts sinking a shaft on Hudson's gulch at the bottom of which a tunnel is to run across the vein under the entire Ragged Top district. The Golden Hill Mining company of Omaha is sinking a shaft to the lower quartzite in this same vein. The Atokadoo Mining company also of Omaha is working a number of men on a shaft on Iron creek in the same formation. Everything in the district is being worked with the intention of treating the ores by the cyanide process. Great changes are being offered in the low grade ores of the Black Hills by this process. Plans were made this week for two more plants using this process which are to be in running order within 60 days with a capacity of 100 tons.

The Homestake Mining company is pushing the work on the repairing of the stamp mill at Terraville which has been shut down for a number of years. The mill will be in readiness for ore by the time the new water supply is brought in from Spearfish river.

MINING NOTES AROUND TOWN

ABE LINCOLN STARTS WORK

Work was resumed yesterday on the Abe Lincoln claim which is one of the Stratton's Gold Hill group. This claim was formerly owned by the Maum Mining company and is a very promising five acres. There will be very active development on this claim and it is expected that the Tenomy vein will be encountered in one of the contemplated cross cuts.

RETURNS FROM JEFF DAVIS SHIPMENTS

Lessee A. B. Jones on the Jeff Davis claim of the Lexington company has received returns from the last two shipments which came from his recent strike at the depth of [illegible] feet. The returns are not very encouraging as the two lots assayed barely an ounce to the ton.

MAY BUY LEASE ON PRINCE ALBERT

Superintendent Bainbridge of the El Paso mine has declared an intent on of purchasing the lease now running on the center block of the Prince Albert. This lease is improving and though the shaft is only [illegible] feet in the ground its relations are very favorable.

FREE GOLD REPORTED ON HOMESTAKE CLAIM

The Homestake claim on Big Bull hill has again come into prominence by the announcement of Lessee Rogers that extremely rich ore has been encountered. The find is reported on a well defined vein and is said to carry a large percentage of free gold.

STRATTON BUYS INTEREST IN TARASCON

W. S. Stratton has paid [illegible] for a three eights interest in the Tarascon lode on Gold hill. The [illegible] Tutt & Penrose and the claim lies between the Geneva and Tomboy properties.

DEAD WORK ON ARGENTUM JUNIATA

[illegible] few shipments in Argentum Juniata for some time as efforts are directed towards cleaning up the stations and other dead work. The vein still carries high silver values and regular shipments will be the order from now on.

HARDWOOD APPLIES FOR PATENTS

W. S. Hardwood of this city who formerly owned the Hardwood lease and for whom the Hardwood claim of the Damon company was named has filed an application for United States patents for the following claims: Queen of Diamonds, Jack of Diamonds, Queen of Diamonds, Nine of Diamonds and Jack of Hearts.

HURT LEASE LOOKING WELL

The Hurt lease on the Mabel M. is in splendid condition. The vein is two and a half feet wide and averages two ounces. Returns from a recent 12 ton shipment gave the gross amount of $66.

Safe Money Making and Interest Paying Investments

Cripple Creek stocks offer to careful investors unexcelled opportunities for handsome profits and also offer large interest on the money involved. Investment under proper guidance in the meritorious prospect stocks promises substantial profits within a very reasonable time. The dividend payers assure splendid returns on the money involved. Both guarantee safety against the loss of the original investment.

SOME DESIRABLE DIVIDEND PAYERS

There are several dividend paying Cripple Creek stocks which offer especially attractive investments. They are entirely safe and assure the investor excellent interest. There are three of these dividend payers that will also yield handsome profits in our opinion if bought now. Write us for particulars.

A GOLD HILL BARGAIN

There is a Gold Hill stock now selling around 6½ cents per share which we believe is destined to become one of the best profit-making prospect stocks on the market. This stock is backed by about 50 acres of choice ground located on nearly all of the famous hills of the camp by sound conservative and careful management and by active development work, the three essentials to the ultimate great success of a Cripple Creek mining proposition. We strongly urge the purchase of this stock at once in as large amounts as possible, as we are convinced of its intrinsic value and ultimate sharp advance in price. Write us for particulars.

Conservative Investors

recognise the value of our advice and judgment knowing that we represent the conservative element in Cripple Creek investments. THE COLORADO SPRINGS MINING STOCK EXCHANGE

Colorado Springs, Aug. [illegible].—The market was again dull and without feature, with prices stationary and trading dull by light. In the mines list there was far more activity than any other h[illegible] This is due in this department [illegible] the call from being totally without [illegible] but all is always interesting and sustained this reputation today. The market showed a weak [illegible] in spite of the [illegible] and [illegible] firm and [illegible] very few [illegible] noticed in the majority of shares [illegible] which [illegible] with [illegible] at $1 [illegible] as low as $1.13½. [illegible] end of [illegible] these shares recovered notically and the last sale [illegible] per share.

The [illegible] business amounted to [illegible] shares and these trades in [illegible] amount of $8[illegible]

The ZOE Gold Mining Comp'y

I am receiving so many letters of inquiry about the Zoe mine and Zoe stock that I cannot find time to answer them promptly, and I take this method to give the latest information.

We are installing a steam-hoisting-plant, a substantial shaft house, and new ore bins, and are timbering our new shaft. We will have steam up not later than August 15th, and will have our shaft timbered by the 20th.

We have a large body of high grade ore in sight, and ore broken, ready for hoisting, and as soon as our surface improvements are completed we will begin regular shipments.

Zoe stock can only be purchased on the open market. It is sure to advance when we begin shipments. I consider it one of the best, if not the best stock, on the market for sure profits, and recommend its purchase.

CHICAGO GRAIN

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Trade in wheat during the session was quite quiet although there were periods of considerable activity. Prices kept close to each other, Liverpool proved only a slight advance compared with the bulge here yesterday and the market after a rather easy in tone opened September 1¼ lower. An early advance to 7[illegible] was followed by a reaction to [illegible] and then fluctuations were narrow with the market tone however firm. Southwestern receipts were very [illegible] and there was a fair demand for cash wheat. The weather was favorable for harvesting and all bulls seem to be supporters. Near-by [illegible] the talk of big cash sales of [illegible] shipment. [illegible] September sold up to 7[illegible] and closed strong at that figure, 5 [illegible] above yesterday. Corn started [illegible] broke at once on the rain in the west and [illegible] [illegible] of late [illegible] Oats were [illegible] over and active. Provisions were steady within narrow [illegible]

Chicago Cattle Market

Chicago, Aug. 23.—Cattle receipts 2,[illegible] including 1000 western; [illegible] Texans; [illegible] to prime steers $4.10@5.00, poor to medium $2.60@[illegible], stockers and feeders $2.[illegible]@4.[illegible], cows $[illegible], heifers $2.00@4.[illegible], canners $1.[illegible]@2.[illegible], bulls $[illegible], calves $2.[illegible]@[illegible]. Texas feeders $4.[illegible]@[illegible], grass steers $3.[illegible]@[illegible], Texas bulls $[illegible]. Hogs—Receipts [illegible] 7,000; [illegible] 5c higher. Mixed and butchers $5.[illegible]@5.[illegible], good to choice heavy $5.[illegible]@5.[illegible], rough heavy $5.[illegible]@5.[illegible], light $5.[illegible]@5.[illegible], bulk of sales $5.[illegible]@5.[illegible]. Sheep—Receipts [illegible] 14,000; [illegible] steady to 10c higher. Wethers $3.[illegible]@3.[illegible], choice mixed $3.[illegible]@3.[illegible], western sheep $3.[illegible]@3.[illegible], Texas sheep $2.[illegible]@3.[illegible], native lambs $4.[illegible]@5.[illegible], western lambs $4.[illegible]@5.[illegible].

The Metal Market

New York, Aug. 23.—The news of the local metal market gave a slight turn of the tide in favor of the bears, and in consequence the heavy selling which had prevailed at the opening of the week was resumed. The news from the west did not indicate any material change in the situation, however, and the metal exchange did not show much activity. Lake copper quiet at 17 [illegible] cents, with sales reported at 17¼ cents. Tin was quiet and easier, with sales of 100 tons at 31 cents. Lead was weak at $4.37½@4.40. NEW GUINEA-MEXICAN GOLD MINES CORPORATION

MAJOR HOWARD, President. FRED K. WILKINSON, Manager.

10% MONTHLY DIVIDENDS

ON PRESENT ISSUE $250,000.

TO PROVIDE FOR INCREASED WORKING EXPENSES.

Blocks of stock in the above company being sold at $1 per share, full paid and non-assessable, paying an ordinary dividend of 5 per cent per month and an interim bonus of 5 per cent. (The advance reports of the management justify the continuance of a total 10 per cent per month until 1902, when the bonus only may cease for a few months to allow of further deep level developments.) Not more than 5 allotted. To avoid exchange remittances, may be sent in dollar bills by mail. Stock repurchased. Dividends on $100 stock and above that amount paid weekly if desired. Holders of stock below $100 monthly. Dividends by express without charge in cash or bills. (Original issue at present pays over 500 per cent. per annum.)

The object of this issue is to immediately control an increased development fund and in return to give the public a highly lucrative investment, combined with a level-priced legitimately [illegible] stock, unaffected by broking or "change" manipulations. Part of the corporation's property is situated in the heart of the Indian country on the boundary of Southern Mexico. Some of the workings date from the sixteenth century, and are held by private ownership under agreements with the corporation. Their resources have only been tapped by long patience and a special arrangement with the Indians. Provided there is no political disturbance of these regions and ample working capital for extensions the supply of the precious metal should be perennial.

Applications, with remittances, names and address to the Manager, New Guinea-Mexican Gold Mines Corporation, Beehive Block, New York. Applications will only be entertained strictly in accordance with priority of receipt.

Where Did That Headache Go?

If there was no cure for that headache there would be some reason for tolerating it But there is a cure It is safe swift sure It goes straight to the throbbing tearing pain and soothes it and quiets it until in a few minutes you can straighten up and say Where did that headache go Never mind It is gone It will not trouble you again soon

And then the medicine is so easy to take—no bad smell no big capsule to swallow It is just a little tablet flat wafer and after it is moistened it slips down your throat as easy as anything

People who don't enjoy having headache sought to keep a box in the house all the time The name? Instant Headache Cure
